Hello Everyone!

I've had another lovely week at school after all the fun of my half term holiday and Jubilee weekend. It's so nice to see everyone at the front gate in the mornings and at the end of school.

I'm hoping to come and see everyone at the top gate next week but Mr Johnson has warned me about a cat that thinks he can do my job up there! Can a cat help worried children into school like I can? Has he got a smart orange coat and two leads like me? Is he fully qualified, risk assessed and insured? I didn't think so. Back off feline!

I've had some great walks at lunchtime this week, thank you to the children that help. You are all so lucky to have the big field - I think it must be the biggest primary school field in the whole world! The children have been great filling my water bowl up after my walk - all this hot weather makes me thirsty.

Have a great weekend - it's supposed to be hot, so I'm planning some paddling pool action at home. I can't wait!
